

Spitfire Email Marketing

Email newsletters give you the ability to create long-term relationships with your customers and market your product and services more cost effectively. You have the ability to track on an individual level who opened your emails and what content they read, helping you to measure the level of interest readers have in the email newsletters you are sending them.

Whether you want to drive sales, build customer relationships or communicate more efficiently with staff and channel partners, Spitfire has an email newsletter solution that matches your exact needs. Our services include providing the software, consultancy and an extensive library of free templates – unlike other organisation who charge for design.

Spitfire Auto Responders

New subscribers require special attention. They're eager to hear from you, but they don't know your company as well as established subscribers do.

Build profitable relationships with them using a sequence of automatically delivered emails.

- Welcome new subscribers, and then drive them back to your website with follow up messages. Send as many as you want!
- Answer questions, deliver downloads and provide product information.
- See who clicks your links, which opens your messages, and more.
- Build subscriber trust and confidence.
- Deliver emails during the days and time periods when prospects are most likely to read, click links and order products.
- No manual sending needed – Spitfire will deliver your messages automatically!

Spitfire SMS Marketing

Spitfire SMS offers our customers access to a secure, dependable, high capacity messaging platform. This web-based product offers bulk SMS delivery, address book merge functionality, bulk imports of contacts and many advanced sending features. Spitfire messaging provides a unique method of contacting individuals wherever they are, right to their mobile phones.

SMS messaging is particularly effective when contacting members of a club, customers, your sales force, event attendees etc. Get a message through to every person, quickly and efficiently.

Spitfire Surveys

With Spitfire Surveys, research won't cost you a cent extra! Ask as many questions as often as you want and get the data you need to improve products, target campaigns and stay ahead of the competition! It's easy to use – just point and click to design, then publish and watch the results roll in.
